

New Updates Galore for emSigner

Continuous and ongoing improvements have been and will continue to be the cornerstone of eMudhra's offerings. No wonder, each and every solution that is offered by eMudhra has seen several rounds of upgrades of late. For instance consider emSigner, eMudhra's innovative paperless office solution, which has witnessed a slew of major updates in the last six months. The most notable among this is the addition of OCR (Optical Character Recognition or Optical Character Reader) search functionality, which will allow users to seamlessly search for documents or content within documents using related keywords. This is followed up with the option to Create and Edit Document Collaboratively, which will enable users to create documents and collaboratively edit them by assigning one or more reviewers.

Here is a quick rundown of some of the other set of upgrades to emSigner:

- Document Merge: This feature allows you to auto populate fields in the Flexiform in bulk using the data stored in CSV/XLS file
- Modify Flexiform: This option allows you to either modify the document fields or the settings in the document fields of the Flexiforms, which are already created
- Override Flexiform: This option can be used to completely override the document fields and create a new Flexiform altogether
- Upload Word and Excel: By incorporating this feature emSigner has lifted the precondition that restricted you from uploading any other types of documents other than PDF for creating templates or for signing purpose
